Our warmest welcome to the Myconian Korali

The Myconian Korali, a Relais & Châteaux Hotel, is a member of the Myconian Collection – a completely independent, family-owned and family-run hospitality group exclusive to Mykonos.

It was founded in 1978 by my father, George, with the priceless help of my mother. Today, it is all managed by their sons – my brothers and me.

At the Korali and the Myconian Collection, we're Mykonos locals through and through, taking pride in our insider knowledge of the island, delivering our long-standing signature hospitality, and making our guests feel like they don't have a care in the world.

This directory will give you a useful breakdown of our services and facilities – and offer some quick info on our island, which we can't wait to show you.

Please never hesitate to get in touch with us for any information or assistance. We are looking forward to making your experience truly indelible.

Welcome to Mykonos. Enjoy your stay.

Sincerely,
Marios Daktylides
Managing Director

A family legacy

There is something about a family business and its unique synthesis of heritage, loyalty and emotion that unlocks a warmth and an authenticity of service and hospitality you can't find elsewhere. This quality is at the heart of the Myconian Collection's success. "My brothers and I are as proud of our roots as we are of our growth", say the four brothers Panos, Markos, Vangelis and Marios about their parents, George and Eleftheria Daktylides, founders of the Myconian Collection that today counts eleven of the leading luxury hotels on Mykonos.

Taking care of you the Myconian Way

Giving you complete peace of mind and making you feel more safe and secure than ever, the Myconian Collection's new health and safety protocols expand over six dimensions of care:

THE VISION

MAKING A BETTER WORLD THROUGH CUISINE AND HOSPITALITY

In a world that is rich in its differences, people from all cultures have always placed importance on two timeless traditions: Cuisine and Hospitality. Throughout history, these two traditions have contributed to happiness, fellowship and the art of living well: or what the French call "l'Art de vivre." It's therefore critical to our humanity –if not mankind– that cuisine and hospitality be cherished, preserved and continually revived, ensuring both can always play a role in our capacity to live well together.

For the past two decades, food, cooking and dining have gone through some significant and troubling changes. The actions of many large-scale food producers and dining establishments have had a profoundly negative impact on the health of both our planet and our consumers. As a result, some chefs have embraced the styles and trends imposed by the industry, which are, in truth, inconsistent with the original tenets of our profession. Others have focused more on ostentatious presentation, slipping even further away from the genuine role that cuisine can and should play in our lives.

At Relais & Châteaux, we strive to be true artisans and representatives of the restaurant and hotel trade. We see ourselves as both heirs and gatekeepers of not only the rich cultural history of hospitality around the world, but also the wonderful variety of cuisines within it. As a fellowship, as a family of chefs, hoteliers and restaurateurs, we have made a conscious choice to be true to the mission bestowed upon us: to preserve and share true culinary techniques and to eschew shortcuts that diminish excellence. For it's through this use of authentic methods and ingredients that we are able to truly share all that is good and beautiful in this world. For it is through these practices and beliefs that we truly express and enrich our humanity.

This strong emotion of taste, however, does not exist on its own or spring solely from the plate. Rather, it is deeply connected to one's surroundings and an authentic and generous welcome into them. This fundamental realization is the foundation on which we build our commitment to supporting cuisine and hospitality and, through this commitment, making the world better for future generations.
